

March 2016

Dear Friends,

“For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh. Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more: circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee; concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless. But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ. Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ, and be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith: that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death; if by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead. Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.”

Philippians 3:3-14

In his letter to the Philippians, the Apostle Paul reminds us of what truly matters in this life. He warns us about finding confidence in our own strength, instead of what God has done for us in Christ. Paul would have had every reason to boast of his own heritage and religious piety, but when Jesus appeared to him on the road to Damascus, everything changed. His gaze is shifted away from self and toward the Cross of God’s Son.

This truth did not go unnoticed by Sir Isaac Watts the famous English hymn writer. In his hymn “When I Survey the Wondrous Cross”, Watts beautifully captures the true nature of repentance:

When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

When God brings us to repentance, He strips away that which we value most, so that we may clearly see the gift He has given to us; the “Prince of Glory.” In the death and Resurrection of Jesus the Christ, we have been given the forgiveness of sins in His blood, life and salvation. God has brought us into a blessed union with His Son, which Paul describes as being “...found in Him...” It is God’s “...love, so amazing, so Divine...” that transforms our lives forever.

May God grant us grace to celebrate the victory of the finished work of Jesus Christ this Lenten and Easter season as you survey His wondrous Cross.

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Chuck Bylkas

HERE'S ANOTHER WAY YOU CAN HELP THE SEMINARY

The Inter-Lutheran Seminary has created an endowment fund so that our supporters may make gifts that will provide ongoing support. Our Endowment Fund is designed to preserve the principal and a portion of the earnings, and use the remainder of the earnings to fulfill our mission. Because only a portion of the annual earnings on our Fund is used each year, the Fund continues to grow, buffering the Fund against inflation and providing a permanent source of support to our mission.

The Fund is located at the InFaith Community Foundation (formerly Lutheran Community Foundation), based in Minneapolis, Minnesota. The Foundation is dedicated to supporting the charitable, religious and educational

We invite you to participate in supporting the endowment. You may make gifts during life or at death. If you would like to learn more about the purpose of the endowment and ways you may give, please visit <http://www.infaithfound.org/ilseminary>.

The students and staff at the Inter-Lutheran Seminary appreciate your continued support!
